

Currently sleeping in my mom's old office because I can't find an affordable (according to the amount I receive from ODSP, affordable is $586/m) apartment that has no stairs. I was on the list for housing, but I was removed from the list without notice, so had to start my application from the beginning.